PAVING ACTIVITY AT 80 NATOMA SITE

Friday, January 8, 2010 – Friday, January 15, 2010

WHAT	Following geotechnical testing work on the 80 Natoma site, the TJPA will be conducting paving work in order to restore the site's surface to its original condition.
WHEN	Friday, January 8, 2010 – Friday, January 15, 2010
WHERE	Parking Lot at 80 Natoma (between Minna and Natoma Streets to the east of Second Street).
IMPACTS	Noise from paving equipment, deliveries and other construction related activities.
SAFETY	Please stay clear of all construction equipment.

As part of the TJPA's pre-construction planning efforts, the performance of two different types of equipment was evaluated for their effectiveness in drilling and mixing soil with cement to depths that match the anticipated foundation of the new Transbay Transit Center. The results of this investigation will help with designing the shoring wall for the foundation of the lower levels of the new Transit Center. Equipment has been removed and the concrete pad and restoration of the site will be completed by January 15, 2010.

Work will be consistent with current work activities and will include paving, truck deliveries, and other construction-related noise.

We appreciate your cooperation and apologize for any temporary inconvenience. For more information, please contact Courtney Lodato or Adam Alberti, Transbay Outreach Team, at (415) 227-9700.
